However, students can now access information about universities' administrativesystems online using the Undergraduate Student System.