Single beam spectrophotometer is inconvenient because The sample and blank must be placed alternately in the light path.For measurements at multiple wavelengths, the blank must be run at each wavelength.