

It may be used in neutral or alkaline solution. ● It is most effective if the pH is maintained at about 10. ●

- It may be represented by H_2T^- , its phenolic groups being the most important.
- The indicator must react with the metal ion to give red color (complexed indicator) and as soon as the EDTA and metal ion reaction is completed a blue color is given (the indicator is freed). E