

The idea of the Urban Hidden Glow bus station in Kibichuo, Japan, is inspired by natural caves. Calm water sounds and a respiratory lighting system contribute to a relaxing meditative character, with the possibility of climbing over the station for a unique interactive experience