The study's wastewater sample was obtained from the abanozu district of Cankiri.Industrialization began in the region in 1985, despite the fact that the majority of the people lived in an economy centred on small-scale workplaces, farms, and animal husbandry.The district was founded on the Sani Stream and the slopes of a volcanic rock known as aggregatied basalt andesite.

lakhasly.com © تم تلخيص النص بواسطة موقع لخصلي