

The Arab world has witnessed a huge boom in skyscraper construction in recent decades, driven by rapid urban expansion and investment in infrastructure