Another problem that exists in every class, even the quietest ones, is related to students' behavior and the environment created in class.Therefore, this distraction prevents students from concentrating and focusing on the process and the content delivered during theThis behavior can include speaking, whispering, or even making unnecessary noises during the lectures.In particular, many students tend to disturb the lessons and pay little attention to the lecturer.

lakhasly.com © تم تلخيص النص بواسطة موقع لخصلي