

Having the role of class president has provided me with a distinct viewpoint on the significance of .friendship within the school setting