

A case study published by Harvard Business Review in April 2022 highlighted that entrepreneurs who pursued passion-driven ventures were 21% more likely to achieve long-term success, citing figures like Steve Jobs and Oprah Winfrey as prime examples of how passion fuels persistence and breakthrough innovation.