

Media convergence is the merging of different media platforms to create a unified experience. Media? convergence is often used to reach a wider audience and engage with them in a more immersive way, while also enabling new sources of revenue