

It is apparent from Figure 4–20 that the linear polarization is always found along the equator; the right-hand circular resides along the south pole and the left-hand circular along the north pole. Also the range of values of the axial ratio (AR) should be 1