It is apparent from Figure 4-20 that the linear polarization is always found along the equator; the righthand circular resides along the south pole and the left-hand circular along the north pole. Also the range of values of the axial ratio (AR) should be 1