

This essay aims to discuss two reasons why students should be encouraged to pursue their Higher education in their home country. Some of these reasons are serving and developing the nation and economic growth in turn. When students choose to study abroad, they will face difficulties