

My grandfather's house is one of the best places to give me comfort and tranquility, with my grandparents and their love for me, life has become better, my grandfather's house is divided into two halves on the first floor