

.We think that voluntary work is a strong force that transforms communities all around the world