

This project presents an innovative robot designed to clean impurities from seawater, promoting a healthier environment for marine life and coral reefs. This project contributes to sustainable ocean conservation efforts, aligning with global environmental protection goals.