

An invention is something totally new with one's own ideas and development. We should be thankful for all the inventors for their great inventions. For example; cars, computers, planes, smart phones, internet .and air conditioners. Without inventions, our life will be difficult