

for the attack. One day a lawyer named Jaggers appears with strange news: a secret benefactor has given Pip a large fortune, and Pip must come to London immediately to begin his education as a gentleman. He furthers his education by studying with the tutor Matthew Pocket, Herbert's father. Mrs. Joe dies, and Pip goes home for the funeral, feeling tremendous grief and remorse. Pip and Herbert hurry back to effect Magwitch's escape. Magwitch and Compeyson fight in the river, and Compeyson is drowned. Magwitch is sentenced to death, and Pip loses his fortune. Returning many years later, he encounters Estella in the ruined garden at Satis House. Nevertheless, he falls in love with her and dreams of becoming a wealthy gentleman so that he might be worthy of her. Herbert himself helps Pip learn how to act like a gentleman. As the weeks pass, Pip sees the good in Magwitch and begins to care for him deeply. She survives but becomes an invalid. The time comes for Pip and his friends to spirit Magwitch away from London. Pip falls ill; Joe comes to London to care for him, and they are reconciled. Miss Havisham has raised her to break men's hearts, as revenge for the pain her own broken heart caused her. Magwitch feels that his sentence is God's forgiveness and dies at peace. Drummle, her husband, treated her badly, but he is now dead.
