

If you look at living organisms under a microscope you will see they are made up of cells.o During the 1670s, the Dutch tradesman Antony van Leeuwenhoek, used microscopes to observe many microbes and body cells