There are good and bad decisions we make in our lives that affect our experiences.However, I had a bad decision to postpone important tasks.One time I didn't study for an important exam and got a low grade.In my view, taking responsibility is crucial.I made the decision to go to university, which was a good decision that helped me find a good job.This taught me to manage my time better and avoid putting off important things.