

Text summarization is a process of creating a summary of a text document, which is useful for quickly understanding the main points of a long text. The process involves reducing the text to a shorter form while preserving the main ideas and key points.