

I talk to my family like everyone else when I want something from my dad I Make some expressions on my face or calling him daddy and laugh, my mom and my sisters always I tell them what happened in my day and my problems and They give me Solutions also some of my friends I tell them the problem of school and others I tell them about my routine