

What are the conclusions of your article? Even when smoking was restricted to designated areas or outdoors, children still experienced significant exposure. Reduction of parental smoking rates and .denormalization of smoking around children are crucial for minimizing tobacco smoke exposure