

Top Management The president and other top executives of a business, such as the chief executive officer (CEO), chief financial officer (CFO), and chief operations officer (COO), who have overall responsibility for the organization In publicly owned corporations, the CEO's boss is board of directors