

In the late 1930s, our founder's grandfather loads his ships with spices, textiles and machinery, and bags of small green beans that would change the course of his life. Coffee was then transported and traded throughout the Arabian Gulf.