

Modern steel and glass structures: Light and strong materials such as steel and resistant glass are used to reduce weight and improve sustainability. Thermal insulation systems: Due to the high temperatures in most Arab countries, advanced thermal insulation technologies are used, such as treated glass and cooling panels.