

In this research the need to find new normal complexes with antibacterial goods arises from the growing
.concern over drug resistance among pathogenic microorganisms worldwide