

learning English is very important to everyone in the world today, there are some reasons for why we should learn this language. You do not face any language barrier when you work aboard or travel overseas, it is estimated that there are over two billion people speaking and anderstanding English around the world, English has become the most common language in commnkation. Specially you have more knowledge about cullature people and historial stories of the world through reading great works .translated into English