

Muscle fatigue is the inability to maintain force of contraction after prolonged activity It Is a state of .physiological inability to contract even though the muscle still may be receiving stimuli