

The goal of our project is to design and implement a smart safe system that uses Arduino, vibration sensor and tilt sensor to detect any tampering attempts. The use of affordable components promotes the DIY culture, encouraging people to learn about and build their own security systems. This idea can serve as a deterrent against theft and offers people an inexpensive method of protecting their valuables. The user will receive visual and audible alerts from the system.