Hardware components as illustrated in Fig. Power management components provide flexibility in usage scenarios by enabling both stationary anc portable operation. An ESP32 is included to ensure effective control and processing, and an 12C LCD is included to improve user engagement.