

A large percentage of respondents (68.4%) like to send their children in a day boarding school. While (18.4%) of them are thinking about teaching their children online