

Poets began to challenge neoclassical ideals that emphasized reason and formality. They prioritized personal expression and natural simplicity, marking a significant shift towards Romantic ideals.