

Categories of Twisted-Pair Cables: Twisted-pair cables are categorized based on their performance, with each number representing a different category. Category 8 Cable: Category 8 cable is the latest generation of twisted-pair cables and offers significant improvements over previous categories. Improved Design: It features an improved design that reduces electromagnetic interference, improving signal quality and connection stability.