

.There must be pressure in the utility system to use the utility system to use the manual extension valve