

When people talk about the most important developmenfs of civilistion they usually mention writing.if you are a good hunter, you will draw the animals youve hunted to show people.such drawings are among the .earliest examples of writing