The role of management is to develop big data strategy , the role of the organization is to develop privacy policies , and data predictive models , and lastly the role of technology is to do big data mining technology and analytics tools .