

Background about the company STC Saudi Telecom Company was established in 1998 and is one of the largest telecommunications companies in the Middle East and a leader in digitization and information and communication technology (ICT) solutions. The company was also keen to include integrity and transparency in its strategic objectives, enhance the economy, and contribute to achieving the head of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. The company provides various digital services such as information technology, financial technology, communications, cyber security, and digital media in various operational locations around the world such as Malaysia, Kuwait, and Bahrain.