

Opting for biodegradable or compostable packaging materials can be a smart move for BBK to mitigate the environmental footprint of its packaging. These materials decompose more efficiently in nature, lessening the threat of plastic pollution