

PPP The Egyptian government has an ambitious programme to expand public services and attract investment to major infrastructure projects. Investment will be accelerated under private public partnerships (PPPs), particularly in projects with highest developmental returns and social content