Location-Based Services, or LBS, are gaining popularity as the Internet of Things (IoT) develops quickly.To guarantee the system's authentication security, we first build a robust identity verification mechanism in this study.The development of LBS for more extensive services has been hampered by the extreme difficulties in building trust between users and service providers as a result.

lakhasly.com © تم تلخيص النص بواسطة موقع لخصلي