

The function displays food cart locations through the establishment of map markers. The system creates a burger-shaped icon through L.divIcon which uses CSS design elements. The system extracts latitude and longitude coordinates from each cart while checking their accuracy