

Pulmonary fibrosis (PF) is a progressive lung disease characterized by irreversible scarring of lung tissue, impacting daily activities