An organization is a systematic arrangement of people brought together to accomplish some specific purpose; applies to all organizations – for–profit as well as not–for–profit organizations.A formally structured collection of individuals working towards achievement of a common goal.