

Three years ago, I faced a difficult situation that was related to my future. But my preparation for the exams was interrupted because I was transferred to the hospital during the preparation period. I was preparing to begin my final exams for high school