

The light of the sun is personified in the second stanza where the speaker says that light is mute and is only capable of seeing everything. It is in this stanza that the reader would understand that the speaker is female and she is talking about her lover trying to get up to perform his daily duties as a man. The personal feelings of the speaker are attributed to the light