Discuss the TermIntroduction to Community Health Nursing Introduction to Community Health Nursing 1 Is a socialCommunities are an essential and permanent feature of human experience. Community Collection of peoplegroup determined by geographical boundaries and/or common values and interests. who share some important features of their lives, or a group of people sharing values and institutions. A social unit in which there is a transaction of a common life among the people making up the(Broadly). Community health nursing is a synthesis of nursing practice applied inunit. (Green and Anderson). promoting and preserving the health of the population. Community health implies integration of curative, preventive and promotional health services. The aim of community diagnosis is the identification of The primary goal ofPurpose of Community Health Nursing (CHN) community health problems. community health nursing is to help a community protect and preserve the health of its members, while Components of Communitythe secondary goal is to promote self-care among individuals and families. People give thePeople are a community's most important resource: they are its essence. 1. People 2.People have shared values. They have responsibilities to the community. community its identity. EachGoals and needs of a community are determined by its people. Goals and needs of a community In general, community health goals and needscommunity will have community health goals and needs. follow Maslow's hierarchy order of basic needs. الصفحة

lakhasly.com © تم تلخيص النص بواسطة موقع لخصلي