

Rails, the rolled steel sections used in railway tracks, are laid end to end in two parallel lines over sleepers.