

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia is blessed with a wealth of natural resources and opportunities. Improved facilities and services will attract international trade and make Saudi Arabia the transportation center for Europe, Africa, and Asia. Many government services and assets will be privatized and monitored by the state, to ensure a better profit and a successful performance.* * Adapted from the text of the Vision Programs at <https://vision2030.gov.sa/en> and from the text that was drafted by the Council of Economic and Development Affairs as instructed by the Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques, King Salman. Culture and entertainment projects will be launched to create libraries, galleries, and museums and provide different types of events and activities. The Kingdom's fast growing economy will offer equal opportunities for all citizens through a high quality educational system that meets the needs of the job market. Telecommunications and information technology, including high-speed broadband, will be developed in and around cities and urban areas. The Saudi society is defined by its Islamic values and its family orientation. The business environment will be renewed in order to attract entrepreneurs, as well as large or small businesses. Government services will be effective and transparent to facilitate the growth and development of private and non-profit sectors. The nation's real wealth, however, is the Saudi society, whose members will continue to enjoy a healthy, happy, and secure life in an attractive and safe environment. Families will receive the necessary support to raise their children and develop their abilities and character.
