

Hi John/Julia, I understand your concern about climate change, and it's great that you're thinking about this important issue. Plant trees and support organizations working to combat climate change. Climate change refers to the long-term changes in global temperatures and weather patterns, mainly caused by human activities like burning fossil fuels, deforestation, and pollution.2.3.4